The 19th annual Thousand Springs Festival of the Arts will be held on Sept. 24 and 25th on Ritter Island near Hagerman.

As always, the festival will feature two full days of live music as well as local music, wine, crafts and information booths.

The Thousand Springs Festival of the Arts is the primary fundraiser for the Southern Idaho Land Trust, which is a conservation group that promotes and oversees conservation easements for ranches and farms in southern Idaho.

The mission is to promote open space for the enjoyment of present and future generations.
